The season of Advent is one of anticipation and expectation. Even as we return to it each year, it seems to sneak up on me as a wonderful and energetic surprise. Anyone else?

There is so much hustle and bustle at this time of year, and Advent is a reminder to slow down and reflect. We know where this journey will take us: to the arrival of Christ into the world as a baby, the incarnation of God among us, showing up as vulnerably as this.

Yet, there is waiting on this journey. There is change on this journey, and WE will be changed on this journey. This congregation has been in a season of new life for some time now, and you all know a lot about waiting and changing, it seems. What have you learned about anticipation and expectation in the waiting and changing? What might you pray for this Advent?

Whatever your answer, may this journey we make together be filled with wonder, hope, peace, joy, and love, as well as the gritty confidence that as the arc of justice will bend for the good in Christ's presence that continues among us, already AND not yet. The weary world will rejoice.

As we journey through Advent, we will explore texts of prophetic wisdom, new beginnings, transformation and reflection, and Jesus' family. We will move toward the great arrival of Emmanuel, God with us. We will also consider our own traditions, bringing back some elements of the German-speaking heritage service one week, and another, we will learn about saints such as Santa Lucia and Our Lady of Guadalupe, as their feast days occur in this season. We will join for Wednesday Holden Evening Prayer worship that centers on the Magnificat, and hear reflections from members of our congregation on lectionary texts. We will celebrate together, eat together, worship together, and more, on our way to Christmas, where I imagine we will do more of the same in deeper joy of Christ's birth.

Welcome to Advent. However you arrive at this season, sparkling with joy, full of grief, full of questions and doubts, feeling steady and sure, or any way else, know that this journey is for you and that God is with you. Weary or full of wonder or both, there is a place for you here.

Blessings on the way...

Bring a friend for a cup of coffee and buy a frozen pie for Christmas dinner, quilts and crafts for Christmas gifts!

The Sharing Tree is up!

It's decorated in the Parish Hall with requests from the children at Oaks Indian Mission.

Please take a moment to look over the requests. Many of the young residents of Oaks come to that safe haven with very little and they truly appreciate your loving kindness.

When you select a wish-list item, please remember to sign the posted list so that we know who you have matched with for gift giving. Only one gift from the list should be purchased and wrapped.

Gifts should be returned to Salem by Sunday, December 14 so they can be delivered to Oaks in time for the children's Christmas party.

Dear all,

We enter this post-Dave Lewis era with trepidation and we hope that Dave will be joining us by Zoom to keep the conversations lively.

As tradition dictates, we will start Advent (November 30) with our friend Professor Luke Timothy Johnson and his year A presentation on the Gospel of Matthew. Our schedule is:

- November 30: Gospel of Matthew – Synagogue Down the Street
- December 7: Gospel of Matthew – The Messiah of Israel
- December 14: Semi-Annual Congregational Meeting
- December 21: Gospel of Matthew – Jesus and Torah

ADULT Sunday School SCHEDULE

After Advent, we will begin the course entitled "The Apocalypse: Controversies and Meaning in Western History" by Professor Craig R. Koester. An overview of the course states: "Christians and non-Christians alike have been debating the message of the book of Revelation ever since it was first written. What are we to make of it? These 24 thought-provoking and enlightening lectures are your authoritative guide to this extraordinary work. In them, you'll explore the historical and intellectual background of the Apocalypse; enjoy a close reading of John's text, focusing on the meaning of its images; and consider the wide-ranging impact of the book on Christian and Western history."

Please join us when you can. Terry Gipson

To our dearest friends,

There are no adequate words to say "Thank You" for the beautiful God's Speed and farewell blessing and greatest reception! From the start you all being there with special greetings, thoughtful food, pictures to remember on the tables, signed volleyball and the postcards we are looking forward to. You are all so special. Our years at Salem are memories forever! Much love.

Naserian Kambaine is a beloved member of our Salem community and a graduate student from Arusha, Tanzania, working in Stillwater to complete her Ph.D in Chemical Engineering. She is the eldest of 6 children and her father is a Lutheran minister. He and Naserian's stepmother believe both their daughters and sons should have equal educational opportunities; however, it is a struggle to provide the necessary funds.

Traditionally, in Tanzania, girls leave school at an early age to help with chores, childcare and farming, then marry and start families. Naserian's family is committed to changing that for their children.

When I met Naserian at Salem and heard the story of her family, I hoped perhaps we could help her family by paying school fees for her two youngest siblings. Other siblings are in secondary school with scholarships or have graduated from college.

Thanks to your generous support, we have paid the school fees for Nathan and Neng'ida for the past two years, enabling them to continue their education. And we have the funds needed to support both children for the upcoming 2026 school year. Your commitment ensured that vital educational needs were met, directly funding tuition, supplies, and other necessities. Because of you, Nathan and Neng'ida have the opportunity to pursue their dreams and build a better future for themselves and their community.

Thank you for your kindness and belief in their potential.

We have a new Coffee Hour sign-up at the pass-thru to the kitchen. We'll need at least 2 people to help with the Coffee Hour before the Congregational Meeting on December 14. Thank you for all your help!

RE: APPRECIATION AND UPDATE ON SPONSORED STUDENTS [NATHAN DANIEL

NATHANIEL AND NENG'IDA DANIEL NATHANIEL.

Greetings from UPENDO FRIENDS PRIMARY SCHOOL.

We are writing to express our sincere gratitude for your generous support in paying school fees on behalf of the parents of two of our students. Your commitment has brought great relief to the families and has enabled the children to continue with their studies without disruption.

We would also like to inform you that starting next year 2026, there will be a slight increase of Tsh. 150,000. The new annual fee will be as shown on our school fee for 2026 attached with this letter.

Additionally, we are pleased to inform you that one of the student you are supporting, NATHAN DANIEL NATHANIEL, will be completing his primary education next year 2026 in standard seven. We are confident that with your continued support and encouragement, he will excel in his final year.

Once again, thank you for being part of this noble journey. Your generosity is making a lasting impact.

Warm regards,
